Module 1 | 45 minutes | Opening · details · closing | Grades 3–6 · ages 8–11

Objective: Plan and give a one-minute show-and-tell talk about a favourite object, with an opening, three details and a closing.

Success criteria

- I can plan a talk with an opening, three details and a closing.
- I can use describing words and because in my talk.
- I can speak for about one minute while looking up.
- I can give two stars and a wish.

Key vocabulary

- opening: The first sentence that grabs attention.
- hook: A question or surprise that makes people want to listen.
- detail: One fact about your object.
- closing: The last sentence that shows you have finished.
- key words: A few words that remind you what to say.
- feedback: Kind comments that help someone improve.

You will need

- Projector or screen share with Kitabash (lesson video, activities)
- Devices: 1 per learner (laptop, tablet or phone); a microphone helps for speaking tasks
- Printed worksheet, paper and pencil
- Printed project brief
- Project files: l04-project-sheet-show-and-tell.md, l04-teacher-script.md

Timed lesson plan (45 min)

Time	Stage	What happens
4 min	Warm-up game	Guess my object in three clues: volunteers describe their hidden object; the class guesses.
4 min	Watch + teacher talk	Play the project video, then the teacher gives a live one-minute talk; learners show fingers for each part.
6 min	Game time	Order the talk and the opening/detail/closing sort, then a poll: Pick the best opening.
8 min	Plan (build-along)	Learners write their talk map with key words on the project sheet; teacher checks each opening in the chat.
5 min	Pair rehearsal (breakout)	Pairs rehearse with a timer and swap one star and one wish.

14 min	Show-and-tell presentations	Every learner presents for about one minute holding their object. Teacher scores with the rubric; two classmates give two stars and a wish after each talk.
4 min	Reflect + probe	Learners write the project reflection and answer the giving-feedback question. Celebrate: everyone gave a talk!

Unplugged warm-up

Guess my object in three clues (5 min): learners hide their show-and-tell object behind their back. Volunteers give three describing clues (“It is soft. It is brown. It has one eye.”) and the class guesses before the reveal.

Teaching the idea

This is the Module 1 project. Each learner plans and gives a one-minute talk about a favourite object using a clear structure: opening hook, three details (looks like, came from, why special), and a closing. They use everything from Lessons 1–3: greeting energy, because, describing words. Ask families the lesson before to help choose an object (nothing valuable or fragile). Assess with the rubric and run “two stars and a wish” peer feedback.

Analogy: A good talk is like a train: the engine (opening) pulls everyone along, the carriages (details) carry the good stuff, and the last carriage (closing) shows the train has arrived.

Live demo: 1) Hold up your own object (a mug, a book, a plant) and give a full one-minute talk following the talk map. 2) Ask learners to raise one finger at your opening, three fingers through the details, and wave at your closing. 3) Show your key-word card on screen: “Ever seen…? / blue, chipped / gift from sister / every morning chai / That is why…”. 4) Model two stars and a wish on a volunteer’s practice opening.

Questions to ask

Ask	Listen for
What are the three parts of our talk?	Opening, three details, closing.
Give an example of a strong opening.	A question like “Have you ever…?” or a surprise.
What three details do we give?	What it looks like, where it came from, why it is special.
Why do we use key words, not a full script?	So we can look up at our listeners.
What are two stars and a wish?	Two good things and one kind idea to improve.

Differentiation

Support
Provide a talk map with picture icons and sentence starters for every line. Allow 30–45 seconds as a first target, and let learners read their opening line.

Stretch
Add a short story moment ("The day I got it...") and answer one question from the audience at the end.

Common misconceptions

Misconception	How to fix it
A talk is just a list: "It is red. It is big. It is mine."	Join details with because and add where it came from and why it is special.
Ending with "That's it" or just stopping	Use a closing: "That is why... Thank you for listening!"
Reading every word with head down	Use key words, look at the word, then look up and speak.
Feedback like "good" or "bad"	Say what exactly was good and give one kind, clear wish.

Assessment

Project rubric (also on the project brief):

Criterion	1 · Beginning	2 · Developing	3 · Secure	4 · Excellent
Structure	No clear opening or closing	Has an opening or a closing, not both	Clear opening, three details and closing	Engaging hook, well-linked details and a memorable closing
Language	Single words or a list	Some full sentences; one describing word	Full sentences with three describing words and because	Rich, varied describing words and reasons; joined ideas smoothly
Voice & body	Very quiet or hard to follow	Mostly heard; looks down a lot	Clear, steady voice; looks up often; holds up the object	Confident, expressive voice; good pauses; looks at the audience throughout
Listening & feedback	Did not listen to others	Listened; feedback was "good" or "bad"	Gave a specific star and a kind wish	Gave thoughtful, specific feedback and used feedback to improve

What was the best opening you heard today, and why did it work?
