LESSON PLAN · SPOKEN ENGLISH (GR 3–5) BEGINNER: CONFIDENT ENGLISH · LEVEL 1

Lesson 8: Capstone: My First Speech

Module 2 | 45 minutes | Plan · practise · present | Grades 3–6 · ages 8–11

Objective: Choose a topic, plan a speech with a speech map, practise it, and deliver a 1–2 minute speech, then give and use kind feedback.

Success criteria

- I can plan a speech with an opening, three points with examples and a closing.
- I can practise and improve my speech.
- I can deliver a 1–2 minute speech clearly and confidently.
- I can give and use kind, specific feedback.

Key vocabulary

- speech: A talk you plan and give to an audience.
- topic: What your speech is about.
- speech map: Your plan: opening, three points, closing.
- main point: A big idea in your speech.
- example: Something real that shows your point is true.
- audience: The people listening to you.

You will need

- Projector or screen share with Kitabash (lesson video, activities)
- Devices: 1 per learner (laptop, tablet or phone); a microphone helps for speaking tasks
- Printed worksheet, paper and pencil
- Printed project brief
- Project files: l08-capstone-sheet-my-first-speech.md, l08-teacher-script.md

Timed lesson plan (45 min)

Time	Stage	What happens
4 min	Warm-up game	Just-a-minute: pull a fun topic from the hat and speak for 20 seconds without stopping; everyone claps.
4 min	Watch + teacher speech	Play the video, then the teacher gives a live one-minute speech including a forget-and-recover moment.
5 min	Game time	Order the speech map, point-or-example sort, then Beat the butterflies (poll) and 4-4 breathing together.
7 min	Plan (build-along)	Learners choose a topic and fill their speech map; teacher checks openings in the chat.
5 min	Rehearse (breakout)	Practise rounds 1 and 2 alone and to the camera; round 3 to a partner, who gives one star and one wish.
16 min	Speech showcase	Every learner delivers a 1–2 minute speech. Teacher scores with the rubric; two classmates give two stars and a wish after each speech.

		Short class cheer between speakers.
4 min	Reflect + celebrate	Learners write the speech reflection and answer the feedback-for-Zoya question. Award certificates of completion and announce Level 2.

Unplugged warm-up

Just-a-minute warm-up (5 min): learners pull a fun topic from a “hat” (mangoes, rainy days, my pet, superheroes) and speak for 20 seconds without stopping. The class claps after every speaker — the only rule is “keep going”. It shows everyone they can already talk longer than they think.

Teaching the idea

The capstone brings the whole course together: a structured introduction (L1), questions for the audience (L2), describing words (L3), talk structure (L4), clear sounds and pauses (L5), polite language (L6) and sequencing (L7). Learners choose a topic, build a speech map (opening, three points with examples, closing), practise three times and deliver a 1–2 minute speech. Spend real time on nerves: breathing, smiling and the “look at your map and carry on” rule. Assess with the rubric; peers give two stars and a wish. Celebrate every speaker — finishing is the win.

Analogy: Giving a speech is like riding a bicycle for the first time: wobbly at the start, but with practice and someone cheering you on, you soon fly.

Live demo: 1) Give your own one-minute speech (e.g. “Why I love the monsoon”) using the speech map, holding up fingers for each point. 2) Show your speech map on screen — key words only. 3) Model the forget-and-recover: pretend to forget mid-speech, breathe, look at your map and carry on — then ask learners what you did. 4) Lead the 4-4 breathing together. 5) Model two stars and a wish on a learner’s practice opening.

Questions to ask

Ask	Listen for
What are the parts of our speech map?	Opening, three points with examples, closing.
What is the difference between a point and an example?	A point is the big idea; an example proves it.
What can you do if you feel nervous?	Breathe in and out for four, smile, remember the audience wants you to do well.
What do you do if you forget a line?	Breathe, look at your map, carry on.
What makes feedback helpful?	A specific star and a kind, clear wish.

Differentiation

Support
Offer a fill-in speech map with sentence starters for every line and a picture prompt for each point. A one-minute speech with two points is a great first goal.

Stretch
Add a short story as one of the examples, use a question in the middle to involve the audience, and answer one audience question at the end.

Common misconceptions

Misconception	How to fix it
Writing the whole speech and reading it word by word	Use key words on a speech map, so you can look up.
Giving three points with no examples	Add one real example to each point — it makes it interesting.
Thinking nervous means you are bad at speaking	Everyone feels nervous. Breathe, smile and begin.
Stopping completely after a mistake	Carry on. Most listeners do not even notice small mistakes.

Assessment

Project rubric (also on the project brief):

Criterion	1 · Beginning	2 · Developing	3 · Secure	4 · Excellent
Content & structure	No clear topic or order	Topic clear; fewer than three points or no closing	Opening, three points with examples and a closing	Engaging opening, strong examples, memorable closing
Language	Single words or a list	Simple sentences; few describing or order words	Order words, describing words and because used well	Varied, vivid language; ideas linked smoothly
Delivery	Very quiet or reads every word with head down	Mostly heard; looks up sometimes	Clear, steady voice, pauses between points, looks up often	Confident and expressive; great pauses, stress and eye contact
Feedback & reflection	Did not give feedback or reflect	General feedback (“good”); short reflection	Specific star and kind wish; honest reflection	Thoughtful feedback; reflection sets a clear next goal

Exit ticket
What is one thing you did in your speech today that you could not do at the start of this course?

Homework
Give your speech to your family at home (a grown-up may record it on their phone to keep). Ask for two stars and a wish, and write one goal for Level 2.

Answer key — Kitabash activities

1. Order the speech map (perform · ordering)

Order: Opening: a question or surprise → Point 1 with an example → Point 2 with an example → Point 3 with an example → Closing: That is why... Thank you for listening!

2. Point or example? (perform · categorize)

Main point: Cricket keeps me fit., Books take me to new places., My grandmother is brave.
Example: I run between the wickets twenty times in a match., Last week I read about a girl who sailed around the world., She learned to ride a scooter at sixty.

3. Beat the butterflies (perform · multiple choice)

Answer: Take a breath, look at your speech map, and carry on.

4. Speak: my first speech (perform · speaking)

Listen for: I opened with a question or surprise · I gave three points with examples · I used first, second, third or other order words · I used describing words and because · I paused between points and spoke clearly · I looked up and ended with a clear closing

5. My first speech: speech map and reflection (probe · project)

6. New situation: feedback for Zoya (probe · multiple choice)

Answer: Your opening question made me want to listen! Next time, could you add two more reasons why you love dance?

Answer key — worksheet

1. Key words: speech = A talk you plan and give to an audience. · topic = What your speech is about. · speech map = Your plan: opening, three points, closing. · main point = A big idea in your speech.
2. Order the speech map: 1 Opening: a question or surprise · 2 Point 1 with an example · 3 Point 2 with an example · 4 Point 3 with an example · 5 Closing: That is why... Thank you for listening!
3. Point or example?: Main point: Cricket keeps me fit., Books take me to new places., My grandmother is brave. · Example: I run between the wickets twenty times in a match., Last week I read about a girl who sailed around the world., She learned to ride a scooter at sixty.
4. Beat the butterflies: B. Take a breath, look at your speech map, and carry on. — Every speaker forgets sometimes. A breath and a look at your map gets you back on track — the audience hardly notices.

5. New situation: feedback for Zoya: B. Your opening question made me want to listen! Next time, could you add two more reasons why you love dance? — A specific star and a clear, kind wish help the speaker improve. Vague or unkind comments do not.
6. My plan: A clear plan that covers every requirement.
7. Checklist: All requirements met.
8. Two stars and a wish: Kind, specific feedback and an improvement.
